Mr. Clarke moves to reconsider the vote by which this bill was tabled.

Mr. moved to lay that motion on the table, and the motion to table prevails.

Mr. York moves to take up

H. R. 192, a resolution in regard to the business of this House,

And, on a division, the House refuses to take up the resolution.

THE SPECIAL ORDER

for the hour, being

S. B. 297, a bill to prohibit the carrying of concealed weapons, is announced.

The reading of the bill is suspended, and

H. B. 325, a bill relating to the same subject, is read for information.

On motion of Mr. Cooke, both S. B. 297 and H. B. 191, a bill relating to the same subject, and previously offered as a substitute and before the House in connection with S. B. 297, are both passed over informally, and H. B. 325 taken up as a substitute for both.

The question is then on H. B. 325.

Mr. Davis of Haywood, offers the following amendment, to come in as section 4:

Section 4. Any person being off his own premises, and having upon his person any deadly weapon described in section 1, such person shall be prima facie evidence of the concealment thereof."

And the amendment is adopted.

Mr. Colwell moves to strike out the third section; which motion fails.

Mr. Etheridge offers an amendment, which the Speaker rules out as not being germane to the matter before the House.

Mr. Henderson moves to amend by inserting:

"That it shall be unlawful for any person to manufacture any of said arms in the State," and the amendment is rejected.

On the passage of the bill Mr. Cooke demands the previous question.

The call is sustained and the main question is ordered.

Before the question is put an amendment offered by Mr. Taylor to insert the word "metallic" before "knuckles" is accepted; and on a division, the bill passes its second reading.

Mr. Cooke moves to put the bill on its third reading, and the rules are suspended.

On the passage of the bill, Mr. Cooke demands the ayes and nays.

The call is sustained and the main question is ordered.

On the passage of the bill, Mr. Holt demands the ayes and nays.

The call is sustained and the bill passes its third reading: by the following vote, and is ordered to be engrossed and sent to the Senate for concurrence:

Ayes—Messrs. Amis, Angier, Ardrey, Armstrong, Atkinson, Barringer, Bateman, Bernard, Bingham, Bird, Bizzell, Blaisdell, Blalock, Blocker, Bost, Brown of Yadkin, Bruce, Buchan, Burroughs, Cale, Carter of Yancey, Carson, Cary, Chadwick, Christmas, Clarke, Click, Cobb, Coffield, Colwell, Cooke, Council, Covington, Davis of Catawba, Davis of Haywood, Davis of Madison, Deans, Dimsdale, Dixon, Ellison, English, Ewing, Ferrell, Forbes, Foster, Foy, Gatling, Goldston, Harrell, Hewitt, Hines, Horton, Huffstetler, Johnson, Lamb, Leatherwood, Lewis, Lindsay, Lowry, Meares, Mebane, Miller, Moore, Orchard, Osborne, Paxton, Pettipher, Powers, Rawley, Reid of Macon, Reid of McDowell, Richardson of Columbus, Richardson of Wake, Ritchey, Smith, Taylor, Vaughan, Venable, York, and Young—80.

Nays—Messrs. Anderson, Battle, Berry, Bonner, Bryson, Carter of Warren, Carroll, Dunn, Etheridge, Foard, Grant, Henderson, Hobbs, Holt, Jones, Leach, Lockhart, Lutterloh, Melson, Newell, Reynolds, Scott, Waddell, Wheeler, Wimberly, and Woodhouse—27.

Mr. Speaker announces that the hour has arrived fixed by the General Assembly to go into the election of magistrates.

Mr. Scott moves to suspend consideration of the election to take up H. R. 118.

The Speaker rules that the order fixing the hour of election, being a joint one, it is not in the power of the House to set it aside for the consideration of other matter.

A MESSAGE IS RECEIVED FROM THE SENATE

announcing that that body is ready to proceed to the election of magistrates, and had appointed Messrs. Dillard and Bull to superintend said election on the part of the Senate.

A message is transmitted to the Senate informing that body that the House is ready to proceed to the election of
